DiSSCo enters the transition phase

It's almost time for DiSSCo to become a European Research Infrastructure, an ERIC. The kick-off meeting of this 18-months transition period took place in Paris. Click here to know more.

What is the "transition phase"?

Revised pollinators initiative A new deal for pollinators

50. Recognises the importance of citizen scientists, including farmers, and taxonomists, who need to be supported further so that they can strengthen their expertise, cultivate good practices and share them across the Member States; acknowledges, at the same time, the findings of a study commissioned by the Commission¹ and published in December 2022 showing that expertise tends to be particularly poor in the countries with the richest biodiversity and noting that taxonomists are predominantly male and ageing; recalls that one of the obstacles to the effective implementation of citizen science programmes is the lack of taxonomic expertise on data processing and a lack of taxonomic tools and calls on the Commission and the Member States to address these shortcomings; appreciates the successful work of the Pollinator Ambassadors in raising awareness and motivating citizens and businesses;

The Red List of Insect Taxonomists we created enters the EU legislation
